Mr McFall's Chamber is a Scottish-based ensemble founded in 1996 with a vision to programme and commission new, experimental and rare music. By and large the group has tried to make its programmes accessible and, at the same time, full of surprises. Concerts are intimate and fun, delivered with a lightness of touch and quiet sense of humour.

At its core are string players Robert McFall, Brian Schiele, Su-a Lee, and Rick Standley, who have been in the group since its inception. Over the years they have collaborated with many creative artists and commissioned a large number of new works. Tonight sees both in action: the strings are joined by six guest musicians from the worlds of classical and jazz; and the premiere of two new works specially commissioned for this tour.
